

Preach

Don't preach to me about wrong or right,
I'll be the one to define my life.

Don't want to colour in the lines no more want to know what I was brought here for.

I have questions
I'm looking for answers
Does the devil love me?
Is there a heaven?

I'll find my way
I'll make mistakes
it's about living.

It's risk we take
to be hurt for love
to cry at night
but to feel passion
with all our might
would be such a loss.

Love is something for which you can risk it all there is glory in love
there is story in love
the worlds speak to us
one and all.

We have this life
given to us by our Creator to dance to sing
before we meet our maker our days are numbered better live a little while we still can.

No use living with regrets wishing you took a stand for what you wanted
it's your God-given right to follow your dreams with all your might.

No one needs to understand
No one else needs to agree I'm living my life
now for me
been afraid too long
of hurting anyone.

There's everyone to please but now I'm living for me don't judge what I do or who I am

in your heart you know I've always been a friend.
Everyone has a reason to rise and shine
it's another day now
I'll claim what is mine.
Success, fame
riches and glory
may be my future
it won't be the end of my story.
